GRANT PARK IN PATH OF BIG FIRE

Forest Service Drafts Many Visitors to Assist In Battling Flames

FRESNO, June 23.—General Grant park is in the path of a forest fire which so far is uncontrolled and which is sweeping steadily forward despite efforts to back the fire. Fire Warden A. D. Weddle is in charge of a crew of 100 men who are battling the blaze. Several thousand acres have already been burned over. Calls for assistance have been sent here from the fire district.

Visitors Are Drafted
Lesser forest fires were reported at Friant, Oakhurst, Oneals and Newman.
The home of a forest ranger at North Fork was reported to have caught fire and was destroyed. That fire spread into the forest. Park visitors have been pressed into service.
Exceptionally dry weather is making fire fighting especially hard.

ASKS MERCHANTS TO SAVE POWER

Shortage of Electricity Is Grave, E. F. Sanders Tells Members

The need of cutting down light and power consumption in Glendale was stressed before the members of the Glendale Merchants' association by E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, at the meeting held today noon at the Alley Inn.
Mr. Sanders, speaking of the shortage of electricity and water for hydro-electric plants, said Huntington Lake, which supplies a great amount of water for the Southern California Edison company's plant, would be dry by September 1 at the present rate of consumption. He asked the merchants to cut their light usage at least 50 per cent.

The Chamber of Commerce will take up the question of supplying, securing and installing a large gasoline driven engine to be used in supplying electric power and light in the event of an emergency. Mr. Sanders said. Data on the probable cost and advantage of the engine for emergency purposes is being gathered now, he said. The Los Angeles Gas & Electric company has sufficient power, he said, but is expecting a shortage. This company is selling power to the Southern California Edison company at the present time, he said.

Cut Down Display
C. J. Hatz, president of the association, urged the members of the organization to co-operate by cutting down their display lighting and window lighting at night.
R. Ernest Tucker of Community Service told of plans for a big picnic at Patterson park on the Fourth of July, and asked that a committee be named to secure suitable prizes for games and contests which will be staged as part of the day's entertainment. There will be speaking and music by the Community Service band, he said.

He told the officers urgent business caused him to seek his liberty, but that he has since transacted the necessary deals and is ready to serve out his sentence.
Honeas was sentenced to the Hollywood station on December 12, 1923, on an assault and battery charge. Two days after he had taken up his duties as a trustee he made his escape. He stated that immediately after he had been sentenced, he learned his wife was a bigamist. He declared he desired to investigate and thus took his leave.

DEMOCRATIC CHIEFTAN MODEST

Taggart of Indiana Denies He Is 'Boss,' Simply Backing Ralston

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, June 23.—The Honorable Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, is busy these days trying to impress upon his interviewers and all sundry, that he is not a "boss" in any sense of the word and that the Democratic party is not bossed. Mr. Taggart pooh-poohs the talk of a "big four" in the Democracy and says he is having no "trick" with any blocs, cliques or other combinations in restraint of presidential booms. Mr. Taggart knows of only one candidate in the race—Senator Samuel Ralston, a Hoosier Grover Cleveland. He likes Al Smith; he likes a lot of people, but he vows and declares he is not in the "bossing" business and never was there.

All the talk about the visits that George Brennan, of Illinois, and the late Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, used to make to him at French Lick Springs was pure "bunk," according to Mr. Taggart. This triumvirate did not meet together to settle the affairs of the party. They did not meet to turn thumbs down on certain candidates. The last visit Mr. Murphy made to French Lick was said to have been for the purpose of rotting Mr. McAdoo as a candidate. That was all wrong, says Mr. Taggart. All the triumvirate did was to play golf, take the baths and lounge around in the evening enjoying life and indulging in social pastimes.

Today's Big Four
The "Big Four" of today is popularly supposed to consist of Messrs. Taggart, Brennan, Guffey of Pittsburgh and Al Smith, of New York, as the successor of the late Tammany chieftain in Democratic leadership of his home state. There is no doubt there exists a strong "community of interest" between these four gentlemen, but Mr. Taggart is consistent in saying that from the first he has been for Senator Ralston, regardless of what the other sides of the Big Four may think, and he believes that among the dark horse element, Mr. Ralston has a leading position.

The latest official bulletin from headquarters of the "Dry" force sent here from Washington to "mop up" during the convention period, announces that, contrary to general opinion in the great American hinterland, New York really is not now and never has been since prohibition became a law, a really wet city.

"It is just damp in spots," ex-

WED SIX MONTHS, SEEKING FREEDOM

Husband of Society Matron Blames In-Laws as Wife Sues for Divorce

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—"When men and women realize that love devoid of sex is everlasting, then the world will be happy."

This was the statement made here today by Joseph A. Moser, 24-year-old chauffeur-husband of Mrs. Myrna B. Moser, wealthy Los Angeles society matron, who is being sued for divorce by his bride of six months.
"My wife knows I love her and she loves me, but her interfering relatives have caused all the trouble," said the young husband. "But I'll forgive her and take her back. Ours was an intellectual marriage, which transcends all others."

May Sue Women
Moser was formerly chauffeur to Mrs. Moser's late husband, Dr. J. H. Martinsdale.

He told today of spending a honeymoon with her on her 1000-acre estate on the Mackenzie river in Oregon.
Moser said he intended to sue his wife's sisters, Mrs. J. A. Heyler, living at the exclusive Ambassador hotel here, and Mrs. Fred Betts, Los Angeles clubwoman, for alienation of affections.

Californians for McAdoo, Delegates Reach New York

NEW YORK, June 23.—The California delegation to the Democratic convention arrived at Grand Central station at 9 a. m., is solid for McAdoo. "McAdoo, first, last and every ballot," was the slogan of the Californians. They said they have no second choice, but anybody who will suit McAdoo as a running mate will suit them.

The Californians planned to hold an organization meeting this afternoon, at which they said they would ratify the following:

John P. Carter, Los Angeles, former collector of internal revenue, chairman; J. B. Colston, Pasadena banker, secretary; R. M. Fitzgerald, rules committee; David Ewing, publications committee, and John P. Quinn, credentials committee.

CANDIDATES IN CONTEST FOR VOTES

Main Body of Delegates to Democratic Convention Reaches New York

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, June 23.—Governor Al Smith of New York, asked today if he were as confident today as he would be nominated, replied:
"Yes, I am more confident than ever, if that is possible, and I think I will be nominated on an earlier ballot than I had expected."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, pre-convention manager for Smith, said: "Things look brighter every hour."

By GEORGE H. HOLMES
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, June 23.—To the accompaniment of blaring bands and sounds of conflict, the main body of delegates to the Democratic national convention poured into New York today to find battle lines tautly drawn, an atmosphere surcharged with political dynamite and axes being industrially sharpened by the managers of a dozen rival candidates.

They found William G. McAdoo the pivotal point of most of the strife and fighting grimly to hold his acknowledged lead in the matter of delegates. They found the forces of Governor Al Smith aggressively confident and pursuing delegates with a business-like efficiency that boded ill for rival aspirants; and behind these two leaders they found the steadily growing sentiment that in the end neither McAdoo or Smith will be the nominee because of the very savagery of their fight.

McAdoo and Smith Formulas For Electoral College Majority Told

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, June 23.—Every convention has in the back of its mind one thing—how can the prospective candidate win if he is nominated.

Each of the two leading candidates for the Democratic nomination—William Gibbs McAdoo and Governor Al Smith—depends on two opposite formulas for getting enough votes in the electoral college. It is the strength or weakness of McAdoo or Smith according to you view their chances. But mingling with the delegates even at this early stage of the game, one encounters the statement on the part of the Al Smith managers that he would win by a combination of eastern states plus the solid south. The McAdoo managers reserve the right to alter their formula, depending on whether Senator La Follette of Wisconsin runs or simply refrains from supporting the Coolidge-Dawes ticket.

Smith Figures
Here is the way the Smith people look at the electoral table if the governor of New York, who has twice carried the empire state, is the nominee of the Democratic party and if on the ticket with him is some westerner of appealing strength like Charles Bryan, governor of Nebraska, and brother of William Jennings Bryan:

States	Electoral Votes

DEATH AND RUIN IN STORM'S WAKE

Seven Slain, Many Injured as Gales Strike Mid-West States Sunday

CHICAGO, June 23.—The body of Mrs. P. R. Ferber, 22, crushed by a fallen tree, was found today beside her automobile on a road near Starved Rock. The tree had been uprooted by yesterday's heavy storm.
Seven deaths, a score or more injured and crop and property damage that will range into hundreds of thousands were the known cost today of the violent storm accompanied by electrical disturbances which struck in the midwest Sunday.

Three were dead in Chicago, two from lightning, and a third, Michael Shagney, from a plunge of eleven stories when he attempted to close an office window while the storm was at its height. Stanley Barilo, a caddy, was killed when lightning struck the tree under which he and several golfers sought shelter. Acting Fire Captain Timothy Murphy was struck dead by a bolt while directing the fight on a city fire during the storm.

Trail of Ruin
Three were reported killed and twenty injured in a tornado which struck near Tracy, Minn.
Crops, power and communication lines and buildings in the storm's path suffered heavy damages as the violent gales, accompanied by a deluge of rain, moved eastward from the Dakotas into Minnesota.

DOCKWEILER IS CENTER OF FIGHT

Move to Re-elect National Committeeman Results In Hot Clash

By WILLIAM L. PARKER
Copyright, 1924, by International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Internal dissension of major proportions developed in the California delegation late this afternoon and was viewed with considerable alarm by the McAdoo forces.

The dissension revolves about Isidor Dockweiler, national committeeman of Los Angeles. A faction headed by Gavin McNab of San Francisco is determined to re-elect Dockweiler, while every member of the Southern California delegation, with the exception of Miss Lloy Galpin, is emphatically opposed to Dockweiler's reelection.

Delegates Walk Out

When the delegations met in rooms in the Vanderbilt hotel, it was seen that there was present a sufficient number of Dockweiler-McNab delegates to re-elect Dockweiler, so a number of the southern California delegates precipitately walked out.

The action of the McNab contingent was branded by Southern California delegates as "disloyalty to McAdoo."

An agreement had been reached en route to New York, delegates said privately, that no action would be taken toward the reelection of a national committeeman for California until the supreme question of a nomination had been settled.

Big Fight Looms
But when the delegation reached New York, the delegates confided, McNab and his friends were said to have learned that the reelection of Dockweiler was not favored by the McAdoo forces.

Then the delegates said McNab and his friends immediately determined to re-name Dockweiler, realizing, the delegates said, that if McAdoo is nominated, Dockweiler's reelection would be impossible.

"If Dockweiler is re-elected national committeeman, it will cost McAdoo California," declared one of McAdoo's closest friends and a member of the delegation.

Cordell Hull Faints In Hotel at New York

NEW YORK, June 23.—Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National committee, suffered a near collapse in the Waldorf hotel here today, the result of the excessive heat and several weeks of unceasing work in connection with convention arrangements.

The chairman fainted in his room. He was revived and his condition was said to be not serious, although the physician cautioned him against over-exertion.

Airplane and Traffic Accidents Take Three

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—Three persons are dead here today as the result of airplane and traffic accidents.

Sam Miller, Ontario mayor, was drowned in Big Bear lake when a plane piloted by W. D. Waterman collapsed and fell into the lake. W. D. Bell, of Ontario, and two others were rescued.

While her mother looked on, Anna Salid was crushed to death by an automobile.
Frank Henderson, motorist, was killed by an electric train.

Pola Negri Seen With Fiance at Del Monte

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—In the same romantic surroundings at Del Monte, where her name was linked with Charlie Chaplin, Pola Negri is reported to be displaying a new fiancé. He is Rod La Rocque, film sheik.

The actress and La Rocque are seen together constantly on the links and along shady bridge paths. Miss Negri denies she is engaged, however.

Captain of State Prison Guards Is Instantly Killed

SACRAMENTO, June 23.—Hero of a dozen prison breaks and one of the oldest employees of the penitentiary, J. P. Cochran, captain of the guard at the Folsom state prison, was instantly killed today when he was struck by a falling boom from a derrick in the prison yard.

The boom crashed to earth when a tow wire supporting it snapped. Cochran, who was directly beneath the derrick, guarding a group of prisoners, was struck on the head. No one else was injured in the accident.

Cochran, who entered the service of the state prison in 1891, was stabbed by escaping prisoners in the gigantic break at the penitentiary in 1903, and left for dead. He later recovered and was advanced to captain of the guard for his bravery in attempting to halt the fleeing convicts.

GIRL CONFESSES, ATTEMPTS TO DIE

Two Arrests Follow Recital By Victim of Leaders Of Auto Thieves

Developments of a sensational character follow fast on one another, as the crime net laid by Glendale and Burbank police and detectives continues to enmesh additional members of what is believed to be the most vicious gang of thieves in the San Fernando valley.

Saturday four members of this gang were arrested and brought to Glendale police headquarters, where Chief John D. Fraser obtained confessions that implicated Miss Geraldine McGowan of Burbank, 15 years old. This young woman was interrogated by Chief Fraser Saturday afternoon, and her story implicated two other alleged members of the gang, who have since been arrested.

Attempts Suicide

Following her confession, wherein she stated she was one of three girls led astray from a private school in San Fernando by Norman Rhea of Burbank, one of the gang now under arrest, Miss McGowan was returned to Burbank, where she attempted to commit suicide by swallowing lye and is now in a hospital of that city, critically ill.

Miss McGowan admitted to Chief Fraser that she is a drug addict, and told him Rhea had led astray two other girls from the San Fernando private school, both of whom are now in Long Beach. Rhea is an ex-police officer, discharged from the Los Angeles police department. He is said to be the leader of the gang.

Miss McGowan admitted Rhea had registered with her at a Los Angeles hotel under a fictitious name, as man and wife. She made other admissions which are expected to lead to further arrests.

U. S. AVIATOR SPEEDING TO PACIFIC COAST

Lieutenant Maughan Expects To Make Last Landing In San Francisco

BULLETIN
CHEYENNE, June 23.—Lieut. Russell Maughan, after a brief stop at the flying field here, hopped off at 2:50 p. m., mountain time, to continue his dawn-to-dusk flight across the continent. His next scheduled stop is Salsdore, Utah.

BULLETIN

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 23.—Lieut. Russell Maughan, dawn to dusk army coast to coast aviator, reached his third leg destination at 2:15 p. m., mountain time.

The flyer made the 540 miles from St. Joseph, Mo., in 3 hours and 38 minutes.

Leaving Mitchell field, New York, one minute before 4 a. m., daylight saving time, Maughan completed the approximate 1700-mile flight to Cheyenne in 13 hours and 16 minutes, an average speed of about 130 miles an hour.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Lieutenant Russell Maughan, army flyer, hopped off in his single-seated pursuit plane at 3:59 o'clock daylight time this morning from Mitchell Field, New York, in his attempt to make a dawn-to-dusk flight to the west coast.

It was the flyer's third attempt within a year to outspeed the sun across the continent. Maughan expects to make the 2670-mile trip to the coast in 17 hours, reaching San Francisco at 9:41 o'clock to-night (standard time).

Mobilization Test
The flight is to attempt to prove the air force can be mobilized on either coast within a day and is under the direction of Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service.

Maughan won the Pulitzer race in 1922 at Detroit. He is 31 years old.

Maughan issued a statement before the flight deploring the fact that people looked upon the flight as nothing more than a "stunt."

"It is an attempt to show the people of the United States the necessity for keeping the air service equipment up to date," he said.

Maughan streaked into McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, at 7:10 eastern standard time this morning.

Mechanics found a leaking gasoline line in Maughan's plane and immediately began making repairs.

After his plane was pronounced

BURBANK PILOT AND PASSENGER HURT IN CRASH

Rupert Malone and Raymond Dutton Are Injured as Airplane Falls

Rupert Malone, Burbank pilot, and Raymond D. Dutton of Chicago, his passenger, are in the Glendale Research hospital, suffering from injuries that may prove fatal to the latter, as the result of a spectacular crash yesterday at Los Turas lake, fifteen miles north of Calabasas, on the occasion of the annual Santa Barbara Aero club meet. Both had been living in Burbank.

Thousands of spectators, among them Acting Mayor Boyle Workman of Los Angeles, saw the accident. The plane had just taken off and was about 100 feet in the air, when suddenly it went out of control and crashed to the field a total wreck.

Dr. J. M. Kline, who was one of the spectators, rushed to the scene and gave first aid to the injured. The two men were then placed in an ambulance and rushed to the Glendale Research hospital, where a preliminary examination showed Dutton to have a compound fracture of the left thigh, with probable internal injuries. Malone, the pilot, was cut about the face and otherwise slightly injured.

Cause Is Unknown
Rupert Malone, pilot of the unlucky ship, lives at 313 Tujunga avenue, Burbank. Raymond D. Dutton, though he hails from Chicago, had been living at the corner of Sixth and Cornell streets, Burbank.

The cause of the accident is not known, but witnesses agree that something suddenly went wrong with the plane and Malone was seen desperately struggling with it before the downward swoop and crash.

A few moments before, Acting Mayor Workman had been off in an army plane piloted by Lieutenant Commander McComb of the aircraft squadron of the Pacific fleet. The meet brought to

"I thank you and trust you will be encouraged to continue the presentation of such facts from time to time until our community is aroused to action.

"Very truly yours,

California Players Give Church Program

Three numbers were presented before a large congregation at the Congregational church last night by the Wright California players of Los Angeles. The first was an allegorical play entitled "Past, Present and Future," in which the three characters representing these periods each believed that he typified all that was good. Preceding the play of the evening was a monologue on Benedict Arnold, which fitted in well with the sacred drama, "The Daughter of Judaea," having as its theme the betrayal of Jesus by Judas. The Wright players presented a finished bit of work in this play. They are well-known in Glendale, having appeared before several church and club audiences. Musical numbers were provided by a quartet composed of Mrs. J. H. Budd, Mrs. J. A. Myers, J. A. Myers, and Myron Carman, and piano solos by Mrs. Florence Carman Richardson.

CARE OF FATHER, MILLIKAN'S TOPIC

Sunday School Program Is Feature of Broadway Church Services

Sunday School Day was observed yesterday by the Broadway Methodist Sunday school, and a program of unusual interest was presented. The "Road to the King" was rendered by the scholars making up the several departments. A beautiful and impressive scene was the salute to the American and Christian flags by the intermediate and junior departments. Singing by some fifty little tots of the beginners' and primary departments was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The program was so well rendered that many deserved compliments were paid to Mrs. L. J. Millikan and Mrs. Will J. Myers, under whose guidance the children were drilled. The Millikan orchestra supplied music for the occasion.

Victory Is Certain

The pastor, Rev. L. J. Millikan, preached at the morning service on the subject, "Our Father's Care." Choosing for his text Deuteronomy 23:25-27, he said, in part: "These words were spoken by a man who had communed with God, and knew much of God's power. Nothing richer, better, sweeter or more comforting was ever spoken. This man realized that life is a warfare, but that victory is unfailing to those who fight on God's side. This man's face was aglow with the spirit of God. The words of the text apply to all conditions of life, for the Eternal God is our refuge under every condition. God's care is constant. He walks by our side, ever ready to support us when in danger. He knows our every thought, our needs, and He not only knows them, but He is able to supply them. As a father pitieth his child even so does God pitieth and care for His children.

"We can well afford to take a lesson from the little mocking bird as he sings his exultant notes of joy; he is not afraid, neither is he greatly concerned for his sustenance. May we exercise the simple trust of a little child or of one of God's feathered creatures, for by distrust do we remove ourselves from communion with God."

"We particularly condemn the Pantages theatre of Los Angeles for presenting him, and the Los Angeles papers for printing his advertising and showing his pictures.

"We strongly feel that the appearance of such a man as an entertainer is a menace to the morals of the thousands of children who attend the theatres." (Signed) MRS. C. M. BACON, President.

MRS. A. E. SIPPEL, Secretary.

During the session Mrs. Bernice Johnson, a Los Angeles lawyer, delivered an address on legislation, a subject in which the W. C. T. U. is interested, standing, as it does, for the respect for and enforcement of all laws, the upholding of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution, and the advisability of putting the Bible in all public schools.

A large number of the members were present to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Yeomans.

Boy Scouts Awaiting Day for Trip to Camp

There are eighty Glendale Boy Scouts eagerly anticipating the arrival of Tuesday morning, when at 7:30 o'clock they will start the journey to their summer camp on Catalina Island. They will be in camp until July 2, when they will return home and another group of eighty will go over to the island.

Harvey R. Cheesman, Scout executive, and a group of assistants, arrived home from the camp today and report that all is in readiness for the summer season. Cement groves are built and tables arranged under huge fig trees. Trained leaders will supervise all camp activities so that parents can feel safe in letting their sons attend the camp.

Purposes of Creator Fixed From Eternity

The Bible doctrine of predestination was explained by Rev. R. W. Parmele in the Sunday evening service at the Seventh Day Adventist church on North Isabel street.

"The purposes of God," Rev. Parmele said, "were fixed from eternity, and nothing that might happen could make any change in them. Provision was made for sin back in the eternity of the past, when 'the counsel of peace' took place between the Father and the Son. Christ then became the 'Lamb of God,' foreordained 'before the foundation of the world.'"

"Long before there was a sinner, it was foreordained that Christ should die for the salvation of sinners. And not only was the sacrifice of Christ foreordained, but God also foreordained the redeemed. The Bible tells us that God 'will have all men to be saved,' but only those are predestined to be saved who are 'in Him.' The decision whether we will come to Christ or not rests with us."

Mr. Parmele's theme for next Sunday evening will be "The Life of Christ as Recorded in the Old Testament."

WOMEN CONDEMN ROSCOE ARBUCKLE

W.C.T.U. Resolution Scores Theatre Managers for Hiring Comedian

Opposition to the appearance of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle on the stage or the screen, and condemnation of the theatre owners who have signed up the comedian to play on their circuit, were expressed in a resolution adopted by the Glendale branch of the W. C. T. U. at a meeting held Friday at the home of Mrs. L. C. Yeomans, 601 North Jackson street.

"RESOLVED: It is with shame and deep concern that we, the women of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, still holding fresh in our minds the atrocious tragedy committed a few years ago in San Francisco, which was an insult to womanhood, to good Americans, and to all decent people. Therefore, we, the women of the Glendale Women's Temperance Union, in regular meeting assembled, do hereby most vehemently protest against the appearance of Roscoe Arbuckle in any manner as a public entertainer, either on the stage, the screen, or in newspaper advertising."

"We particularly condemn the Pantages theatre of Los Angeles for presenting him, and the Los Angeles papers for printing his advertising and showing his pictures.

"We strongly feel that the appearance of such a man as an entertainer is a menace to the morals of the thousands of children who attend the theatres." (Signed) MRS. C. M. BACON, President.

A meeting of members of the Oakmont Country club is called for 8 o'clock tonight at the clubhouse. Reports will be made on the progress of the membership drive.

Another important matter to be discussed will be the completion of the golf course. The nine holes of the course already opened are proving most popular with club members and guests. A large crowd went on the links all day yesterday.

During the music hour last night a program was given by the Cavanah Studios of Glendale.

ISLAND JUBILEE FOR LEGION MEN

Delegation From Local Post Joins Two-Day Outing Of Ex-Service Men

A large delegation from the local post No. 127, American Legion, journeyed to Catalina Island Saturday to attend the third annual pilgrimage of Los Angeles county Legionnaires which was held at Avalon on Saturday and Sunday. Thousands of ex-service men from the Southern California posts attended the two-day jubilee outing.

The program at the island opened with the ceremony of re-dedication at the flag pole near the pier, and at 6 o'clock the annual dinner of the American Legion Luncheon club was held at the St. Catherine hotel, with a large number of Legionnaires at the banquet table with their wives and families. The grand parade of Legionnaires from all posts in the county took place at 8:30 o'clock and was featured by a 120 piece band and drum corps formed by the consolidation of the Hollywood band, the Sunshine post and Pasadena post drum corps.

The Crescent avenue pavilion was the scene of the grand ball, and entertainment Saturday night, Sunday morning the Forty and Eight was in charge of the jubilee program which started with the firing of the morning gun at 8 o'clock. After the flag ceremonies at 9:05, the divisions followed by a gigantic promenade staged by Vulture 47 with disastrous results to the "goats" being initiated into the order.

Preaching on the subject, "The Open Temple," Rev. Ernest E. Ford of the First Baptist church in the morning services yesterday, told the story of the Apostles Peter and John going into the temple and healing the cripples, and by comparing Jesus to the door of the church, pictured the great good to be obtained by entering through this ever open door.

Large congregations were present for the morning and evening services. Dr. James A. Holmes, Baptist state evangelist, unexpectedly visited the Glendale church last night, and preached the evening sermon at the request of Rev. Ford. An excellent musical program was presented at both services.

So diverting was the recent old-fashioned "Singin' Skewl" at the First Methodist church, that the church choir has decided to repeat the affair on Thursday night in the social hall of the church. A crowded house greeted the performance last week. The same cast will appear.

Miss Mary Malone of Georgia has joined the great majority. Dead? No, she married a man named Jones. He's Bobby Jones, the golfer.

Allenists say there are some vacancies in the brain cells of two Chicago youths charged with murder. This coincides with the belief of the public that there are some vacancies in jail cells that need filling.

"We 'scrub' our gas," says an ad of the L. A. Gas and Electric Corporation. No wonder their bills keep the consumers cleaned.

An American missionary escaped from bandits in China, says a news dispatch. Another case of a man not taking advantage of his opportunities. He should have converted 'em.

"Two Towns Razed in South Dakota Tornado," says a headline. Tornadoes, it seems, make very keen razors. Many a Glendale resident is such because of their close shaves.

Look sharp or you won't get the point of that one.

While looking sharp, be very careful you don't cut the traffic button.

There may, as some people say, be nothing in a name, but—Harry Dull is an employee of the Union Oil Co. and E. S. Sharp is his boss.

That picture, "Conductor 1492," is just a fare comedy.

Proof of the petting is in the meeting.

ATHLETIC COACH TAKES BRIDE AT POMONA COLLEGE

Brilliant Ceremony Unites Howard Butterfield to Mary Ethel Oakes

Amid the impressive surroundings of Bridges Hall, the beautiful Italian Renaissance music building on the Pomona college campus at Claremont, Miss Mary Ethel Oakes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Oakes of 339 West Fourth street, Claremont, and Howard L. Butterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Butterfield of Chino, and assistant athletic coach at the Glendale Union High school, plighted their troth on Saturday afternoon, June 21, 1924.

At the hour of 4 o'clock, as the late afternoon sun shone through the amber glass windows, throwing soft light upon the rich blue plush hangings of the beautiful hall, Rev. Oliver Butterfield, of Sanger, California, brother of the groom, read the bridal service.

A large company of relatives and friends filled the pews for the service and later attended the reception in the patio of Bridges hall.

Special Music

Bridal music was rendered by Raymond Moremen, organist, and Miss Marie Oliver, vocalist. Miss Oliver sang "At Dawning" and "My Wish." Mr. Moremen played the Lohengrin wedding march, following the 1st song, and after the ceremony the Mendelssohn march.

The bride and her attendants, as they entered from the foyer and sides, presented a lovely picture, the white and pastel shades of their gowns and flowers standing out effectively on the background of the rich blue of the hall carpet and hangings.

Miss Maudie Oakes, of Los Angeles, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore pink georgette, trimmed with ostrich tips, and carried an arm shower of Cecil Brunner roses.

There were six bridesmaids in the bridal party, Misses Grace Gray Miller, Pomona; Beryl Mohler, Los Angeles; Helen Thornburg, Pasadena; Florence Butterfield, Los Angeles; Grace M. Miller, Claremont; and Mrs. Irene Oakes of Colton.

AN ARGUMENT—

Is a poor way to settle a matter.
Is easily started with a crank.
Never makes good table talk.
Usually costs more than it is worth.
About religion seldom makes any man plous.
Seldom changes anyone's opinions.
Never changes the mind of God.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Last summer and fall, mountain and forest fires raged over California, causing loss of life and property, destroying watersheds, paving the way for winter floods, hampering power plants and laying waste the grandeur and beauty of nature that is such an asset to this state. There are few sights more pitiful than a grove of tall tree trunks denuded by fire of their leaves and branches, standing stark and stiff and black against the sky.

Every summer there are forest fires, and the danger is greater this year than ever due to the limited amount of rainfall last winter. Already fires have been reported in the San Bernardino mountains, already campers and hikers are leaving their trail of burning camp-fires.

No restrictions the authorities see fit to impose to prevent mountain fires can be too severe. The mountain trails were closed to pleasure seekers during the foot and mouth epidemic, and if necessary they should be closed to prevent forest fires which may be even more destructive, for that disease took no toll of human lives.

In communities adjacent to mountains or forest, fire fighters should be organized before a fire breaks out. Men willingly volunteer in such an emergency, and there is authority for drafting needed fighters, but when there is no leadership and no organization fire fighters can accomplish very little and only jeopardize their lives. Concerted effort is needed in fighting a mountain fire—a tremendous task under any circumstances—and to turn an unorganized body of men loose on a burning mountain-side to fight the fire at random is criminal. Men should be organized, drilled in their duties with competent leaders in charge so that an army of fighters is prepared for action should a fire break out.

Fire in Verdugo canyon last year took two lives, destroyed valuable property, denuded the hills of vegetation so the winter floods swept down and destroyed still more property and wasted our water supply. No canyon or hillside is free from the danger of a like catastrophe, and every possible precaution should be taken to prevent such fires.

Search everyone going into the hills; if necessary keep them out entirely. Establish more look-out stations, appoint more forest rangers. Punish those who violate the rules to the full extent of the law. Take every possible step to prevent such catastrophes as swept the state last year.

DRIVERS SHOULD BE TRAINED

A suggestion that is made very frequently is that every person should be required to pass an examination before being allowed to drive a motor car, and it is a suggestion that will bear repetition. If responsible parties only were to be found at the wheels of automobiles there would be fewer accidents.

Not only should a driver know the mechanism of the car and the course to pursue in case of emergency, but he should understand the importance of paying strict attention to the matter in hand. He should realize fully, without worrying about or fearing accidents, that need for quick thought and prompt action on his part may be necessary at any time.

There should be schools for those who want to drive automobiles; they should be required to take a regular course of instruction, including driving a car under the guidance of an experienced driver and instructor. There should be drill in traffic rules, with special emphasis on the necessity of giving signals accurately and clearly. A course of this kind should be put into the public school and the responsibility of the automobile driver to the public should be stressed, to the young. Pupils should be taught that courtesy on the road is as essential to the well-bred person as courtesy in the home or in society. They should learn that it is as ill-bred to push another car off the road as it would be to push another person off a seat at the theatre.

One who drives a car in Glendale and vicinity, with the many hazards that present themselves, cannot know too much about driving, cannot place too much importance upon strict attention to business when driving, and cannot feel too strongly his responsibility to other human beings.

NATION'S POPULATION GAIN

A population gain of approximately 2,000,000 in one year is the latest United States record. The last half of 1923, particularly, showed the most remarkable increase in population that perhaps has ever been known in the history of this country. The net increase, for that six months, was 1,162,000. The figure stood 112,826,000 on January 1, 1924, according to the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Some people of otherwise sound mind view such figures with alarm, thinking that this country is gaining in population entirely too fast. To them an automobile vacation should be prescribed, preferably in California, but elsewhere in the United States if they prefer, for the same conditions prevail all over this country—thousands upon thousands of acres on every hand, rich, beautiful land, fit for the plow and waiting for the hearthstone.

America could support 500,000,000 people, provided they would support America. What we need is not just citizens but good citizens.

DO NOT WASTE SUMMER

With school out in a few days, what shall the children do with their time, idle it away or harness it to productive work? Summer is a good time to practice up on music, if one is inclined that way. And Mother always has use for Sonny or Sister somewhere about the house, what with canning, sewing, cleaning and other necessary duties.

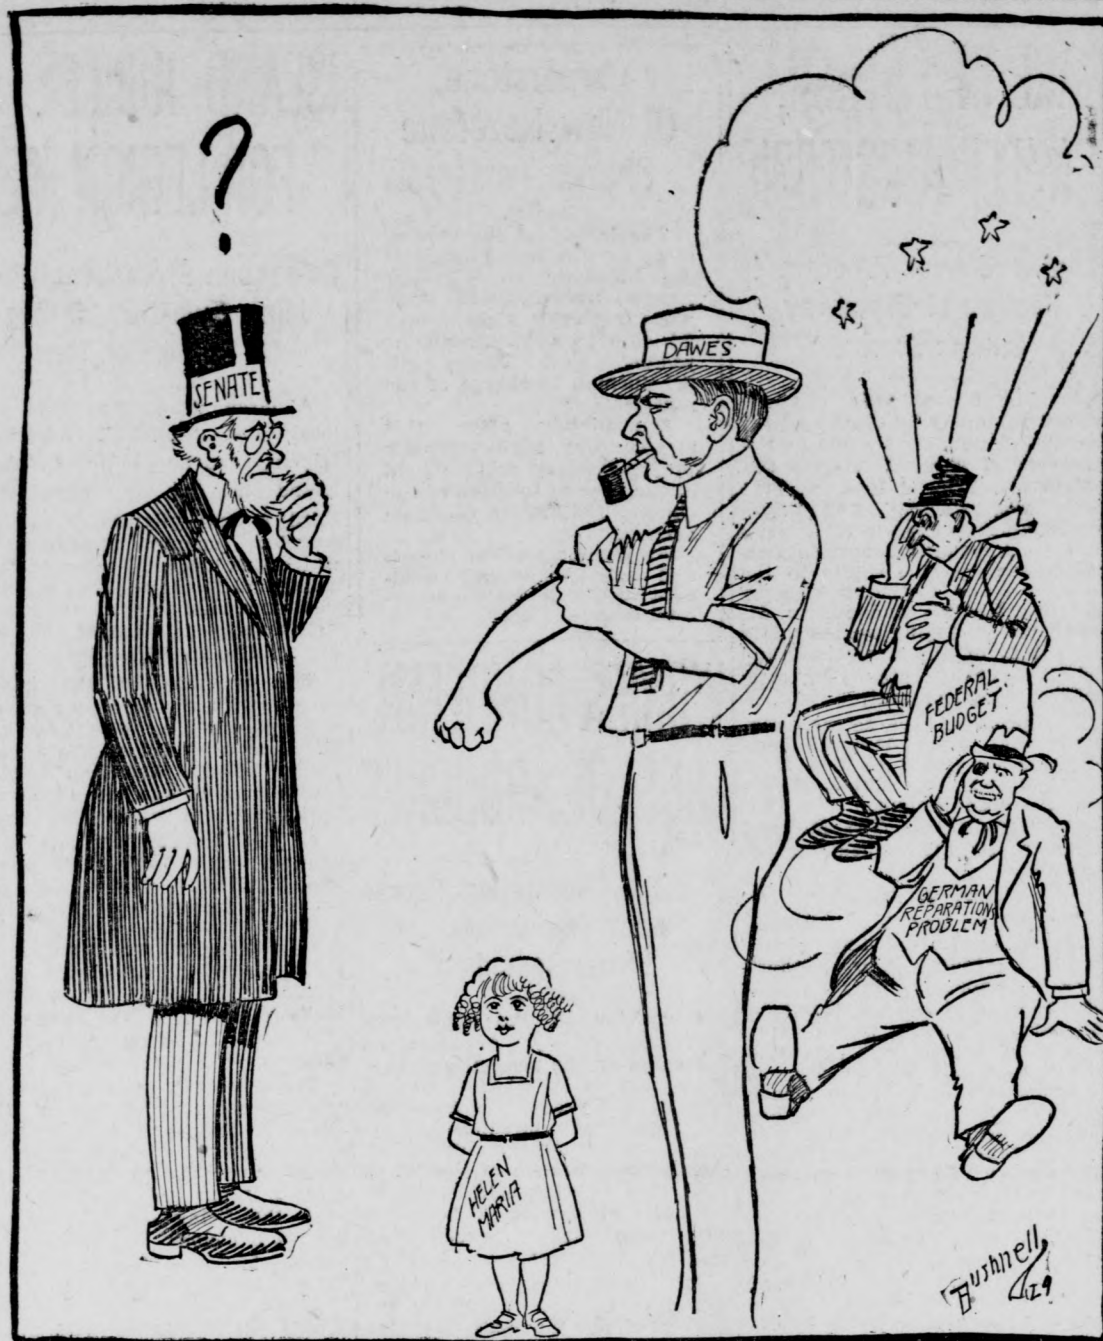

A summer devoted to good reading; a summer school course or some other practical educational end is also worth while. There are, in short, so many splendid things to do with time that only the shoddy, shiftless mind any longer conceives of summer as one long, lazy, loafing period. Modern intelligence taboos it. Parents should insist that their children do something purposeful during the summer months.

A bore is someone who talks about his asthma instead of letting you talk about your hay-fever.

What this country needs more than a good 5-cent cigar is a good silk stocking for 69 cents.

Modesty is an admission that all is not as it should be.

A COMING EVENT CASTING ITS SHADOW?

Dogs

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In a conversation with a naturalist who is of considerable standing, but for obvious reasons desires to remain nameless, he expressed the following sentiments:

"The dog is no more than a degenerate wolf. When men found a litter of wolf whelps they killed off those that were independent enough to stand and fight and preserved those that fawned and cringed."

"These they took home and bred. The result was the dog, who is essentially a coward."

"He is not only a coward, but he is a killer. More human lives are taken every year by the dogs than have been taken by wild beasts since the beginning of the century."

"At night every dog feels the impulse to kill. He becomes a killer."

"He will not kill an opponent who will stand up and fight him, but he kills everything that runs away, including chickens, ducks, geese and sheep."

"Some of the wild beasts will kill sheep and horses, but most of these animals that are killed are killed by dogs."

"The list of diseases that are communicated from dogs to man are numerous, including the tape-worm."

"Every woman who lets a dog lick the face of her child, or hands, is inviting some of these diseases."

"Most of the itch that human beings have comes from dogs."

"I know I am up against a sentiment, and therefore cannot speak freely and authoritatively, for a sentiment is hard to combat."

"The reason most men like dogs is because dogs are loyal to them and afraid of them. Other wild animals, however, would be just as loyal and not so dangerous."

"In almost every instance of a wild animal destroying human life, the wild animal had the rabies, that is, he had been bitten by a dog."

"We have waged war for many years against the cat as a destroyer of wild life, and somebody ought to arise who is of sufficient consequence to cultivate a public sentiment against the dog, for he is equally as dangerous as the cat, if not more dangerous."

"At least, the movement to muzzle dogs during the summer time should meet the hearty approval of everyone."

"Burglar alarms are a guarantee of protection almost as good as dogs; and they have this advantage, that they do not bite."

Good Old Days, Then And Now

The youth of today is rather fortunate as compared with the young person of forty years ago. Such strides have been taken in educational methods and such opportunities are given the young as we never dreamed of then. School was a very simple thing then; it was lessons and nothing more, and if we are inclined to think we realized the importance of an education then more than the young people do today, it may be that time has dimmed our memories.

But, as I said, school meant lessons and lessons meant book learning. We studied arithmetic, reading, writing, spelling, geography. In that day it was really considered commendable to be able to write legibly, spell correctly and read aloud pleasingly. Spelling matches were great fun and we were allowed to hold them as special rewards for good behavior or well prepared lessons. Honors were heaped upon the winner.

We didn't graduate from the eighth grade, we just "passed" into the high school. Then we studied history, algebra, geometry, physiology, zoology, chemistry, physics, Latin and German. The course was prepared for college entrance, but everybody took it irrespective of future plans and occupations. We had literary societies and glee clubs, but school athletics consisted in playing games like "run, sheep, run," with a game of baseball now and then. We had no gymnasiums and no provision for physical training.

The modern school is a much more complicated and useful institution. An effort is made to determine a pupil's qualifications for certain work, to learn his natural bent and then train him for that work. The modern high school teaches music, art, domestic science, almost any of the trades, besides preparing the pupil for college entrance, and there is adequate and elaborate equipment for teaching all these things. Interscholastic athletics have become highly organized, physical training is required in up-to-date gymnasiums, oratory, debating and dramatics are encouraged.

The school of forty years ago was a school only. The school of today is like a miniature city with its many departments, its specialization, its cafeteria, its shops and kitchens and work rooms, and its student body government.

The good old days had a few advantages. For instance, the importance of studious habits was emphasized and pupils appreciated their opportunities, limited as they were. But the school of today that is giving the child individual training for work for which he is adapted is of far more benefit to the youth and to the community.

Only a few more days and this sensational mercantile event will be history of the past! During this week of FINAL DISPOSAL ALL BARRIERS ARE OFF! Costs are disregarded and former prices forgotten in our last and GREATEST SELLING DAYS of Ferber's Bankrupt Merchandise.

Those thrifty folks who kept up a "watchful waiting" for the coming of this WHIRLWIND FINISH knowing as they did that best values and biggest bargains come to the last, will be well rewarded if they come early Tuesday. The entire stock is now repriced—some at half—some at cost—and odd lots at but a fraction of their true values! You'll miss it if you don't come first—Dollars thrown away—Why should you?

The items listed only in a small measure illustrate the genuine tempting bargains—thousands of dollars' worth of goods—broken in lots and sizes, but not in quality—still available. All MUST be sold out entirely.

VISITOR PROVES ARDENT BOOSTER

Takes Issue With Writer In Wisconsin Paper Who Raps Los Angeles

Although a former resident of Waterford, Wis., Mrs. Addie O'Leary, who is visiting at the home of her son-in-law, F. A. Yeager, 119 East Cerritos avenue, is 100 per cent for California, and 100 per cent plus for Glendale and all surrounding parts of Southern California.

Mrs. O'Leary, formerly Miss Addie Willich, still keeps in touch with her home town back in Wisconsin through the Waterford Post, and in the issue of June 12, she found a communication from one Henry Plucker, who attempts to knock Los Angeles and vicinity as hard as he boosts Sacramento valley.

In Sacramento Valley On behalf of her adopted state, Mrs. O'Leary says she doesn't object at all to Mr. Plucker's ardent boosting of the Sacramento valley, for it is part of the wonderful state of California, but she'd like to say a word for Los Angeles.

"I want the folks back home to know just how wonderful the whole state of California is," says Mrs. O'Leary. "If the beauty of the Sacramento valley is all Mr. Plucker has seen I would advise him to start out and journey south and see if he can tell when he's out of the Sacramento valley. We have just as much sunshine, agricultural products, chickens and eggs and just as hard a time finding vacant houses down here as they do in the north."

No Bread Lines Here "Of course, he may be disappointed not to find Los Angeles and surrounding cities full of the bread lines and soup houses he says he has heard about, but I'm sure his disappointment will turn into pleasure when he finds that the Sacramento valley is not the only beautiful or prosperous spot in California."

"As a resident of Glendale, 'The Fastest Growing City in America,' let me add the beauties of Southern California are too many to name and that Los Angeles and other neighboring cities join with us in continued growth and prosperity."

REALTOR PRAISES BOOKLET BY BANK

James W. Pearson Declares 'First of Ranchos' Best Work on Glendale

In a letter from James W. Pearson, secretary of the Glendale Realty Board, the Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank is commended for having produced in the souvenir booklet, "First of the Ranchos, the Story of Glendale," the "best publication dealing with Glendale that has ever been written." The pioneer realtor and Glendale booster takes occasion in the same letter to show how the charm of Glendale makes boosters of all its residents.

The communication, addressed to R. F. Kitterman, vice president of the Security, reads as follows: "There is just enough of the poet in my make-up that inspires me to write and compliment your publicity department on the booklet entitled, 'First of the Ranchos, the Story of Glendale.' Your magnificent new banking and office building could not have had anything to commemorate its opening that would compare with this booklet. It is the best publication dealing with Glendale that has ever been issued."

"I have often wondered what the especial charm was about Glendale. It holds one in this charm and makes of us all boosters. Why?"

Explains Facts "I believe if one reads the little booklet and absorbs its contents dealing with the history of Glendale he will never have to ask this question of himself again. Facts are brought to light in this booklet which have to do with all of Southern California when it was in the making, yet show what an integral part Glendale had in this making. Glendale was bound to be. One can see this when he reads the booklet; yet Glendale is bound to soar higher and higher and reach greater heights because it is Glendale. The thing moves on of itself, so to speak, and each one of us plays his part regardless of how weak it may be.

"Let me again express my appreciation and offer my compliments to those responsible for the gem.

"With best wishes,

"Very truly yours,

"JAMES W. PEARSON."

Two Youths Save Girl From Drowning In Bay

CHICAGO, Ill., June 23.—The Lee Spaulding and Camino Del Mar were hailed as heroes today as a result of their having saved the life of Miss Pauline Gallick, 19-year-old Polytechnic high school student, when a skiff in which they were riding near Golden Gate capsize yesterday. Miss Gallick could not swim but the two managed to bring her near the beach where a passing boat rescued the three. The girl was unconscious.

COMMENT That's All

Summers 'Back There' Democratic Problems A Chance For Dawes The Cellular Champions

By Gil A. Cowan

"In the good old summer time." Do you remember the lines of the song we used to sing?

Do you remember the summers "back there" some place in the middle west, or south, or east, where the summer came with its blistering heat and its thunder-showers and its corn and its grain and its Fourth of July celebrations?

Most likely you do, unless, perchance, you are a member of the rising generation native to California.

And let it be said that, while one misses the summer, because of its contrast with winter, perhaps, the climate here is most ideal.

For you read in the papers of people dying in Chicago from the heat, of the Dakotas being deluged with rain and the grain of Illinois being attacked by the army worm and the corn of Iowa being washed from the hillsides.

Ah, it is nice to live in reveries of "those good old days," but right here there is more happiness and contentment to the square mile than you can find in a whole township "back there."

This week you can visit the mountains or the beaches, you can motor to your heart's content on paved highways, you can find every type of amusement and recreation one might desire.

Glendale, so logically located in the metropolitan area, has easy access to all of the privileges and pleasures of this wonderland.

You should tarry a moment tomorrow to give God thanks that you are here.

The Democratic convention is winding up for its big show in Madison Square Garden. There seems to be some difficulty in pre-convention parleys, not alone over the candidate, but over planks as well.

The Ku Klux Klan and Prohibition are stumblingblocks for the Tammany contingent. Their candidate, Al Smith, if nominated, likely will not have his say altogether in the platform.

Likewise, William Gibbs McAdoo finds no bed of roses and, while he is the leader in the race, his stumblingblock is Tammany. Only his personality can carry the convention.

The last time the writer saw him he was leaping over several automobiles at the corner of Sixth and Olive streets, Los Angeles, about two weeks ago.

If he can leap over Tammany Hall's opposition with equal agility, he will have the opportunity of obtaining the honors he seeks—that of heading his party.

"Helen Maria" promises to be the mascot of the Republicans' campaign. Dawes' dolls of that name are quite appropriate, it would appear.

Inasmuch as the public likely will talk more about Dawes than Coolidge, the Republicans should avail themselves of the opportunity of exploiting him.

As presiding officer of the Senate, it is to be hoped that "Helen Maria" will be effective, if elected, in vamping that august group into legislative action.

If you are following the Coast League baseball, there is no question but what you will agree with the writer that Los Angeles, greatest of all minor league cities, would do well to acquire a ball team which would win a game every once in a while.

Certainly, it is not the breaks of luck that has sent the Angels to the cellar.

In the market news of the day you will find predictions of prosperity, although business is reported "not good" in the east as well as the west.

Based on future trading in grains, profit taking by railroads, increased consumption of gasoline, continued building and plentiful money for public projects, there is no reason why conditions should not be better.

W. B. Kirk, European travel correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, who spoke before the Rotary club last week, gave some sound advice. He urged all who could afford to do so to travel.

"See Europe, or rather know Europe, get acquainted with Europeans."

That was the thought he presented for the very definite reason of promoting peace in this old world of ours.

Certainly, we should all travel. It is the only way we can effectively learn. Best of all, however, the exchange of ideas is more beneficial because we "unlearn" mistaken theories.

Your Dollars Build A Greater Glendale

All Glendaleans must unite for Community Development. Leaders are always necessary, but they can do nothing unless there is some one to lead. Everyone who lives in Glendale is proud of the city, the remarkable records we have made and the institutions we have fostered.

Let us not be impersonal in our Community Pride and Loyalty. Let us each do what we can and then take the credit for what we have done. It is so easy to place the responsibility in such matters on the unknown, overworked, intangible "they." Let us not say, "They ought to do this or that." Let us assume our share of the responsibility that belongs to all of us.

As was said above, leaders are necessary. We can't all plan the big things or do them either, but there are duties which the busiest and the humblest of us may and should assume that are of great consequence in the building of Glendale.

How much money the people who live in Glendale spend in a day or a week or a month, it is impossible to compute, but we know it is an enormous sum. Much of this money is spent in Glendale, but some of it goes out of town. You do your trading in Glendale and you see the results in a bigger and a better Glendale. You cannot, of course, trace your money and know the specific thing it accomplishes, but without your dollars and those of your neighbors and fellow-citizens Glendale's constant growth would be impossible.

If you are doing your trading in Glendale do not hesitate to take your share of the credit for what is being accomplished in the way of Community Development.

The advertisers who sponsor this page are doing what they can for the Community by catering to your desires to the best of their ability and by trying to instill the idea of Community Loyalty in all Glendaleans. You have helped in this campaign by spending your money in Glendale where it is working for all of us.

SLEEP—No. 1

"To sleep is to strain and purify our emotions, to deposit the mud of life, to calm the fever of the soul, to return to the bosom of maternal nature, thence to re-issue hale and strong."—Amelet.

Why do we sleep?—Sleep is essential. Without sleep we cannot live. The life forces that are going out during the day are restored during sleep; or as some one has put it, during the day life flows out and during the night it flows in. There are several theories for the cause and nature of sleep. According to Collins, they are as follows:

First—There is a lessening of the volume and velocity of the blood in the brain. Therefore, there is unconsciousness the same as during fainting.

Second—The contact between the nerve filaments is broken during sleep; therefore unconsciousness comes.

Third—Sleep is of a chemical nature; that is, the accumulation of the products of fatigue cause a more or less poisonous effect which produces drowsiness, and during sleep the poisons are thrown off.

Fourth—The biological theory: sleep is instinctive. We do not sleep because we are exhausted, but because we cannot help it. It is a manifestation of evolutionary development.

HOW MUCH SLEEP DO WE NEED?

There is an old English saying that Nature requires five hours, custom gives seven, laziness takes nine and wickedness eleven.

It is generally believed that eight hours of complete rest in bed are required for the average person. This doesn't mean that you have to sleep all that period. If you are resting quietly part of the time and not worrying because you don't happen to be sleeping, Nature will be storing up energy during the rest hours as well as during the sleep, although not quite so effectively.

Those who are extremely nervous and underweight should rest in bed more than eight hours. There are many famous men whose history records as getting along with a very small amount of sleep, among them Virgil, Horace, Franklin, Napoleon and others. But the belief is that, while they might not have slept much at night, they did take naps during the day. It is said that the Duke of Wellington slept only four hours at night, but he often

Wed at Church

Rev. H. I. Rasmus, Jr., officiated Saturday afternoon, June 21, 1924, at the marriage of Miss Lucille Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Anderson of 345 West Burchett street, to Harry Edward Caddell, of 2301 S. Central street. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

Attending the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Burr of Eagle Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Caddell left for a motor trip to San Diego and on their return will reside at 305½ South Central avenue.

Mrs. Caddell, who is a member of the First Methodist church, is a graduate of the University of Illinois, where she was a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Caddell is the brother of J. G. Caddell, automobile dealer of South Brand boulevard and San Fernando road. He is a graduate of the Michigan School of Mines and is employed by the city of Glendale.

Birthday Party

In the celebration of the eighth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Lella Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. S. Lloyd Jackson entertained a group of twenty of her girl friends with a birthday party at the family home, 1230 South Glendale avenue, on Friday afternoon.

Pink and green were the colors employed in decorating the rooms for the occasion. The refreshment tables were also decorated in the same color scheme.

Games, contests and an impromptu musical program was enjoyed during the afternoon. Later, refreshments of ice cream, cakes and candy were enjoyed.

Those present besides the guest of honor, Lella Jackson, included Jane Frampton, Dorothea Peterson, Alice Bacon, Florence Cochran, Ruth Jeffers, Clara Jeffers, Florence Monagan, Beryl Mitchell, Marie La Chasse, Vera Kelley, Ruth Doherty, Estelle Albright, Lucille Luard, Mary Beth Pettit and Marjorie Beman, Laura Louise and Rosebud Randall and Esther and Florence Brewster, cousins of the guest of honor.

Luncheon-Cards

The members of the Milford Street Card club were entertained last Friday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Thompson when she presided over a daintily appointed five-course luncheon and afternoon of five hours.

A yellow and white color scheme was attractively carried out in the decorations with arrangements of spring flowers. Dainty place cards and other table appointments were carried out in the same tints.

After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to five-hundred, when Mrs. H. G. Hosford was Young, H. P. Strain, C. H. Pendleton, all of Glendale, and Mrs. R. Vinton of Los Angeles.

Those present included Mesdames H. A. McPherson, J. H. Southard, H. G. Hosford, Eustace Young, H. P. Strain, C. H. Pendleton, all of Glendale, and Mrs. R. Vinton of Los Angeles.

During the chapter meeting five candidates for membership were initiated.

Beauty Chats

ASTRINGENTS

This is a period when astringents are particularly valuable. The hot season is good for a muddy complexion and for an oily skin, since it opens the pores and lets them give out their contents; but it also has a tendency to make any skin too relaxed. Half an hour's profuse perspiration is as good as the most scientifically taken steam bath. The only trouble is that the continued heat keeps the skin relaxed and the pores open, whereas the properly given steaming is finished by an astringent treatment.

Now astringents, in beauty culture, are anything which will draw up or tighten the skin. The mild astringents merely close up large or open pores. The strong astringents draw up the skin so thoroughly that they draw up the muscles underneath as well. Usually these last are made up as mud packs or as pastes, for the greater convenience of applying, and are for deep wrinkles and sagging muscles and such troubles.

For ordinary cases of coarse pores, of faint scars resulting from pimples, or for an oily skin, I have an excellent astringent formula which I'll be glad to send any reader. (Send a stamped and self-addressed envelope for it, so there'll be no mistake about addresses and names.) It's a little better than the usual milky solution made of tincture of benzoin and water, but it's easily made up at home. Like any astringent, it should be applied only after the skin has been thoroughly cleansed, then it should be patted on all over the face and allowed to dry.

Ice is always splendid for this purpose, but not so convenient to use. Ice stimulates, too, and brings out color in a pale face.

Mrs. A. H. W.—Pregnancy is no excuse any longer for neglecting the teeth. If you need a dentist there is no reason why you should not go to one and have all your teeth cared for at this time. If you neglect to go it may mean loss of teeth later.

You could renew the facing of Astringents shrink coarse pores, your hat using black satin for a complete change from what it was formerly.

Mrs. B. G.—There is no reason why any one should shampoo with hard water, as enough rain water could be caught and bottled for this purpose. Massage the scalp every day in order to increase circulation, and the dandruff may disappear.

The Case of Jennie Brice

Serial Story
By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXV

The slipper, the rope, the towel and the knife and blade were produced in court, and I identified them all. They made a noticeable impression on the jury. Then Mr. Llewellyn, the lawyer for the defense, cross-examined me.

"Is it not true, Mrs. Pitman," he said, "that many articles, particularly shoes and slippers, are found floating around during a flood?"

"Yes," I admitted.

"Now, you say the dog found this slipper floating in the hall and brought it to you. Are you sure this slipper belonged to Jennie Brice?"

"She wore it. I presume it belonged to her."

"Ahem. Now, Mrs. Pitman, after the Laddies had been moved to the upper floor, did you search their bedroom and the connecting room downstairs?"

"No, sir."

"Ah. Then how do you know that this slipper was not left on the floor or in a closet?"

"It is possible, but not likely. Anyhow, it was not the slipper alone. It was the other things AND the slipper. It was—"

"Exactly. Now, Mrs. Pitman, this knife. Can you identify it positively?"

"I can."

"But, isn't it true that this is a very common sort of knife? One that nearly every housewife has in her possession?"

"Yes, sir. But that knife handle has three notches in it. I put the notches there myself."

"Before this presumed crime?"

"Yes, sir."

"For what purpose?"

"My neighbors were constantly borrowing things. It was a means of identification."

"Then this knife is yours?"

"Yes."

"Tell again where you left it the night before it was found floating downstairs?"

"On a shelf over the stove."

"Could the dog have reached it there?"

"Not without standing on a hot stove."

"Is it not possible that Mr. Ladley, unable to untie the boat, borrowed your knife to cut the boat's painter?"

"No painter was cut that I heard about. The painter—"

"No, no. The boat's painter—the rope."

"Oh! Well, he might have. He never said."

"Now then, this towel, Mrs. Pitman. Did not the prisoner, on the following day, tell you that he had cut his wrist in freeing the

"It's a Boy" opened last night at the big brown tent of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue. The play, which is a clever comedy-drama, proved a big hit.

It will appear at the Morisco theatre, Los Angeles, in August, according to Manager J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians, and is now being presented for the first time on the Pacific coast.

In the east, "It's a Boy" proved an outstanding hit and played to crowded houses. It is expected to prove the most popular play that Murphy's Comedians have yet put on. The curtain rises promptly at 8 o'clock each night, although those who wish front seats will find the doors open at 7:15 o'clock.

A quarter after four Monday morning.

"Did he come in quietly, like a man trying to avoid attention?"

"Not particularly. It would have been of no use. The dog was barking."

"What did he say?"

"That he had been out for medicine. That his wife was sick."

"Do you know a pharmacist named Alexander—Jonathan Alexander?"

"There is such a one, but I don't know him."

I was excused and Mr. Reynolds was called. He had heard no quarreling that Sunday night; had even heard Mrs. Ladley laughing. This was about nine o'clock. Yes, they had fought in the afternoon. He had not overheard any words, but their voices were quarrelsome, and once he heard a chair or some article of furniture overturned, was awakened about two by foot-steps on the stairs, followed by the sound of oars in the lower hall. Under cross-examination admitted that he was fond of detective stories and had tried to write one himself; that he had said at the store that he would like to see that "conceited ass" swing, referring to the prisoner; that he had sent flowers to Jennie Brice at the theatre, and had made a few advances to her, without success.

My head was going round. I don't know yet how the police learned it all, but by the time poor Mr. Reynolds left the stand, half the people there believed that he had been in love with Jennie Brice, that she had spurned his advances, and that there was more to the story than any of them had suspected.

Miss Hope's story held without any alteration under the cross-examination. She was perfectly at ease, looked handsome and well-dressed, and could not be shaken. She told how Jennie Brice had

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE HONEYSUCKLE

"Nurse Jane, would you mind if I invited Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear gentleman, over to supper this evening?" asked Uncle Wiggily one morning of his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"All done," she answered. "Sit down with Mr. Whitewash and I'll bring it in."

So Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Whitewash sat themselves down at the table and waited. All of a sudden Nurse Jane stood in the kitchen doorway and, standing behind the polar bear gentleman, she motioned for Uncle Wiggily to come and speak to her.

"Excuse me one moment, Mr. Whitewash," said the bunny gentleman, as he arose from his chair. "I suppose I must help Nurse Jane to bring in the rice pudding. It is too heavy for her to carry alone."

"All right, I'll excuse you," said the polar bear. "I hope the rice pudding is good and sweet!"

"That's just the trouble," whispered Nurse Jane to Uncle Wiggily when she had shut the kitchen door. "I forgot to sweeten the rice pudding, and there isn't a bit of sugar in the bungalow. It is now too late to go to the store after any sugar. Oh, what shall I do! Mr. Whitewash will be so disappointed not to have a sweet rice pudding."

"Dear me! That is too bad!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'm sure I don't know what to do! Such trouble!"

"Perhaps I can help you," spoke a buzzing voice at the window, and the bumble bee whom Uncle Wiggily had helped alight on the window sill.

"We need sugar for a rice pudding!" said the rabbit.

"Nothing is easier!" murmured the bee. "Growing back of your bungalow is a honeysuckle vine. Each flower is filled with honey, or liquid sugar. I will call some of my bumble bee friends and we will soon sweeten that rice pudding for you."

The bee buzzing his wings, and soon came flying along a thousand other bumble bees. They had long tongues that went deep into the honeysuckle flowers and sucked up the sweet juice. This juice the bumble bees put into a cup and Nurse Jane stirred it into the rice pudding. Soon it was sweet enough and she and Uncle Wiggily carried it in to the table where Mr. Whitewash sat waiting.

"Oh, what lovely rice pudding!" cried the polar bear gentleman, tasting it. "And how wonderfully sweet!"

"We must thank the bumble bees for that," laughed Uncle Wiggily, and he told the bear gentleman what had happened.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Whitewash. "That was a good thing to do. I must get some bumble bees to bring me sweet juice from the honeysuckle."

The bees flew home to their nest and went to sleep, and that's what Uncle Wiggily, Nurse Jane and Mr. Whitewash did, too, only, of course, they didn't fly.

Third Dividend Paid By Valley Mortgage

The announcement elsewhere of dividend No. 3 of the Valley Mortgage & Finance company of this city will come as a refreshing surprise to those who are accustomed to wait a year or two for a new venture to reach the dividend stage. This company was organized some nine months ago by well known local men with a view to handling mortgages, trust deeds and auto finance. Later, the company acquired an extensive local insurance business which had been built up by A. L.
Baird while manager of the realty department of the Roy L. Kent company.

The company has apparently been successful from the very start, and in an unusual way, evidenced by the fact that it has paid not only a 2 per cent quarterly dividend on its preferred shares from the very start, but has also paid each quarter a 1½ per cent dividend on the common stock as well, being at the rate of 8 per cent and 6 per cent per annum respectively.

The company has spacious offices at 211 East Broadway, where
A. L. Baird as president, Max L.
Green as vice president and J. F.
Lilly as secretary and treasurer manage its affairs. Associated with these men on the board of directors are Dr. T. C. Young and Dan W. Green, well known Los Angeles publisher.

Some varieties of roses yield fruit which are preserved for nues.

cream will be furnished. Dinner

Call Joint Session
To Plan Chest Drive

Officials of the Glendale Welfare Chest, meeting at the Chamber of Commerce this morning, decided to call a joint meeting of the Chest organization with representatives of the Y. M. C. A.
and the Boy Scouts Thursday next, June 26, at 10 a. m., to discuss matters connected with the proposed drive for funds for the Welfare Chest this fall.

Lynn D. Mowat of San Francisco, of the firm of Everson & Mowat, who specialize on conducting Community Chest campaigns, addressed the directors at today's meeting.

PARTY UNBOSSSED, TAGGART CLAIMS

Taggart of Indiana Denies
'Big Four's' Existence
At Convention

plains the regional director.
Bootleggers Busy
Nevertheless and notwithstanding, fate has been kind to the bootleggers these last few nights preceding the convention. Heavy fogs have fallen with the evening shadows and in the sheltered solutions of the gray mists the swift motor craft of the whiskey merchants have been playing ducks and drakes with their natural enemy, the revenue men. Several battles have taken place in the fog blanket, but for the most part the liquor runners have safely reached their destinations with the forbidden cargoes.

Thus far the bootleggers have kept their agreement not to raise rates on the Democrats. They said they would abide by the decisions of the hotel men and the restaurants to charge only normal fees. If the convention should prove to be a long-drawn out affair, however, there may be a change, for it is axiomatic that all rules fall in "dry" weather.

The police have arrested two swindlers charged with trying to sell bits of glass as diamonds. It is denied that any of the visiting Democrats were the victims of the game.

Here's an evidence of what the New Yorkers themselves think of the convention: The New York City delegates are deserting their outlying homes and taking quarters at a hotel right in the middle of what may be called the convention loop. They do not want to miss anything by going home
o' nights.

Smith Scores Scoop
The Al Smith forces scored an early scoop on their rivals of the McAdoo camp. Smith headquarters produced the first band. And there is just one guess as to the name of the first tune. You are right. It was "The Sidewalks of New York." "Rosie O'Grady" and all the other familiar airs of the olden days followed in their proper places.

All this arranging of an extra special session of the convention at 9 o'clock, daylight-saving time, Tuesday evening, for the delivery of Senator Pat Harrison's "keynote" speech must mean that the senator has certainly written himself a piece. The "boys" who have seen the piece say it will make everyone sit up and take notice.
Senator Pat does not believe in loving his Republican brethren or dwelling in unity with them. He hook 'em in the jaw is his philosophy of politics.

They have even gotten out packages of paper matches urging everybody to vote for Al Smith for president.

"Give us another Lincoln," say the matches, by the way, are of the safety variety, and won't explode suddenly.

MORE SAVING ON LIGHT IS URGED

Committee to Ask Governor
To Declare Daylight
Saving Plan

Starting today the Southern California Edison company will discontinue service during portions of the day, in various sections of the southwest, according to information received by Peter Diederich, superintendent of the Glendale light and water department.

At the same time comes information that the Power Conservation committee has appealed to Governor Friend W. Richardson to put the state on a daylight saving schedule for the balance of the summer, so serious has the situation become.

Must Co-operate Glendale people seem unable to appreciate how critical is the condition that confronts them, declares Mr. Diederich. Only the actual pulling of the main switch by the Edison company, leaving the city in darkness, will serve to drive home the realization that electricity must be cut 25 per cent.

Mr. Diederich hopes, however, that this will not become necessary in Glendale and is confident that consumers will co-operate with the light department when they fully realize the seriousness of the situation, a situation which he declares must be faced squarely, at once, with a full 25 per cent cut, if disaster is to be averted.

BEEFSTEAK FEAST HELD BY MASONS

Annual Event Is Staged at Whiting's Ranch; More
Than 400 Present

More than 400 Glendale Masons enjoyed the fifteenth annual beef-steak dinner given Saturday afternoon at the Whiting ranch, two miles from Montrose, under the auspices of the various Masonic orders of the city. It was a stag affair and one that the men voted as the best in the history of the order.

The men gathered at the Masonic temple at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the trip to the ranch was made in automobiles appropriately decorated. A feature of the afternoon's events was a baseball game between picked teams. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Scouts band.

While the Masons were either watching the ball game, playing in it, or resting under the big shade trees, the chefs were busily engaged preparing the big feast, which was served at 5:30 o'clock.
Addresses were made by several prominent state and county officials.

GRAND OPERA IS GIVEN AT SCHOOL

'Il Trovatore' Presented as Benefit for Charity
Fund of Elks

Harry Girard and his company of National English grand opera singers gave a most commendable presentation of Verdi's "Il Trovatore" Saturday night at the Broadway High school as a benefit for the charity fund of the Glendale Elks lodge.

There was but one regret and that was that every one of the 2000 or more seats in the big auditorium was not filled by a Glendale lover of opera.

Sharing honors with Harry Girard, musical director, was Anna Dowdell, stage manager.

Mrs. Girard Pleases
Of particular note was the work done by Agnes Cain Brown (Mrs. Girard) as Leonora, the lead. Possessed of a charming voice, she is always a delight to Glendale audiences and her many friends were pleased with her operatic work Saturday night.

Others of the cast were Margaret Hughes, Mabel Roberts, Dudley Chambers, Charles Swickard, Gilbert Wilson, Orion Dawson, Jules Fern, Alma Stetler.

Choral work and costuming were all artistically done and the orchestral accompaniment, directed by Mr. Girard, deserving of praise.

NEW SHOE STOCK AT WEBB'S STORE

Extensive Line of Latest Styles Installed as Changes Made

Convincing proof that the H. S.
Webb store on North Brand boulevard at Wilson avenue is striving to provide Glendale made and matrons with the better lines of shoes is seen in the reorganized shoe department, formally opened Saturday.

Previous to this opening the entire stock on hand was closed out and a splendid stock of forty-five styles specially made by the Burrows Shoe company in Rochester, N. Y., put in for the opening.

L. Brotherton, an experienced shoe man, with a staff of experienced salesmen, is in charge of the department, where the most exact shoe whim can be satisfied.

Can Fit All Feet
Shoes from triple A to D widths and from 2 to 9 in size can be secured in any line in stock.

edens, satins, kids and gold and silver evening slippers.

Patrons are most graciously received by Mr. Brotherton and his assistants and find the rearranged department, with new furniture bridesmaids' gowns. Bouquets of pink and lavender sweetpeas were carried by these attendants.

Ruth Andis of Colton was the little flower girl. She was frocked in white voile, trimmed with myriads of lace ruffles. Her basket of rose petals was tied with a huge pink tulle bow.

Clarence Butterfield was his brother's best man.

Ushers were Mills Oakes of Colton; John Zuck, Los Angeles;
Frank Glenn, Pomona; Roy Wil-
ler, Claremont; Stanley Sutton, Los Angeles; Burt Rolfe, Glendale.

Miss Oakes, who entered with her father, wore a gown of satin back crepe, made with silk Spanish lace. Her veil was held about her head by a rolled crown effect.
She carried bride's roses, lilies of the valley and fern.

Assisting at the reception later in the patio were Misses Lena Andrews, Estelle Nesbit, Lena Savage, Erna Baker, Pomona, and Amy Culberson of Los Angeles.

Mountain Honeymoon
Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield left by motor for the San Bernardino mountains, where they are to spend two weeks at their mountain cabin.

After July 1 they are to be at home in Glendale.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield are graduates of the University of Southern California. Mrs. Butterfield has been a teacher of Spanish during the past three years.
Last year she was a member of the faculty at the Garey Junior High school in Pomona.

Mr. Butterfield comes from a family widely known in the Pomona valley. He has countless friends in Glendale, where he is assistant to Normal Hayhurst at the high school.

Urges United Drive Against Propaganda

D. L. Galloway, a faithful reader of The Glendale Evening News, writes that his paper is to be sent to 2865 Los Feliz boulevard, Los Angeles, instead of to Waukegan, Illinois.

In a postscript Mr. Galloway mentions a story appearing in a paper in Springfield, Mo., in which the writer says "Californiania's sand lot boom has about reached its end."

It is Mr. Galloway's opinion that California people should stand united against such propaganda. He says "Our Chamber of Commerce should enlighten these 'Show Me birds.'"
